-No Spanish military officer knows the island of Cuba better than the present Commander-in-Chief of the Spanish army operating there, Capt. Gen. Don Arsenio Martinez Campos. He has served on the island since he was a subaltern; he was Chief of Staff to Capt.-Gen. Valmaseda; he knows every place and almost everybody on the island. After due deliberation with the Spanish Govern ernment, and it had acceded to his every demand, both of money and men, Gen. Spain had reason to expect that any of Times. her military heroes could stamp out the Cuban revolution, she certainly had a right to expect success from Martinez Campos, the conqueror of the Carlists, the pet of the army, the bosom friend of the King, supplied as he was with every element calculated to insure that success.

chorus of praise of the military successes which they say have crowned Gen. Campos's arms. He has, according to them, never been defeated, never even been checked. From Hayana to Cape Maisi his advance has been like a military pageant. He has pacified the Departments of Las Villas and Camaguey, and driven into the almost impenetrable mountain passes of the Eastern Department the few straggling bands of what was once the "liberating army of Cuba."

We have repeatedly warned our readers against giving too willing credit to these Spanish reports.

To-day the quondam hero himself. Gen. Martinez Campos-the man who knows Cuba and Cubans "all to pieces" pectedly lost the laurels which he won as rail or river. The blocking of the rail- which says that "acts of God and enemies those of persons of high standing in sopectedly lost the laurels which he won as unexpectedly in Spain—this man comes comes to the state has been laurely unformed of the State make their liability as included in Spain—this man comes comes to the state has been laurely unformed of the State make their liability as included in Spain—this man comes comes comes comes to the state has been laurely unformed of the State make their liability as included in Spain—this man comes co to our rescue and more than confirms all our opinions and all our statements.

He sent to Spain in May last his chief of staff and brother in-law, Brig.-Gen. Arderius, and in to-day's Sun we publish a letter from Madrid which contains the pith of Gen, Campos's statement to the Madrid Cabinet on the subject of the Cuban war, its present condition and prospects. It is a confession of inability on the part of Spain, of which the Cuban patriots may well be proud. When Gen. Campos says that five hundred Spanish soldiers are required to exterminate ten Cubans, he admits in writing what all his predecessors have admitted by withdrawing from the field—the invincibility of the Cuban Revolution.—N. EDWIN WARFIELD, Register. June 4 '70-17. -The commission of experts lately appointed by Secretary Sherman to examine the operations of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving recommends that the entire business of printing the public securities, &c., be relegated to private enterprise, and that the functions of the bureau be confined in future to sealing the issues and authenticating their genuineness. A thorough and exhaustive One door east of Tabler's Store. investigation of the history and workings of the bureau preceded the report. from which it appeared that the printing and engraving done by private companies was invariably cheaper, better and attended with greater safeguards than that done by the Government. In some classes of work the bureau prices were fifty per cent. greater than those charged by private companies. The commission does not recommend the discontinuance of the bureau, which they think may be maintained for the counting of Governmental issues when once brought down to an economical basis.
